

WHAT'S ON YOUR DESK?

President Ann Marie Krejcarek reflects on items in her office that provide daily inspiration.

GLASS ART — Once on the desk of Rosemary Cozzo, a friend and benefactor, this piece of glass art reminds me of her: a woman of science, a woman of faith, a woman of grace and style.

HOURGLASS — This is an important reminder that sometimes you have to slow down and appreciate every piece of sand that moves through your life. Be present. Live one grain of sand at a time.

BARREL OF MONKEYS — This is a simple and fun prompt to remain playful. You never know when you have to pull a trick out of your bag!

ST. ROSE PHILIPPINE DUCHESNE PAPERWEIGHT — This is one of my favorite images commemorating the bicentennial of Sacred Heart education coming to North America. It represents the amazing strength and forethought of Madeleine Sophie in sending Philippine across the Atlantic to bring her vision worldwide.

LOW MEMORIAL LIBRARY — This is a model of one of Columbia's most prominent buildings on campus. It represents to me the eternal value of education with its neoclassical architecture, incorporating columns and elements of the Pantheon.

MOTHER TERESA — Mother Teresa was the source of our 2017–18 school theme "We belong to each other." The full quote is "Today, if we have no peace, it is because we have forgotten that we belong to each other — that man, that woman, that child is my brother or my sister."

INSPIRATIONAL SAYING — Emphasizing the importance of finding wisdom over information, this sign reminds me to try and make that distinction daily.

CHAPTER CALLS — These stones display the 2016 Chapter Calls of the Society of the Sacred Heart. They are powerful charges for the emerging future.

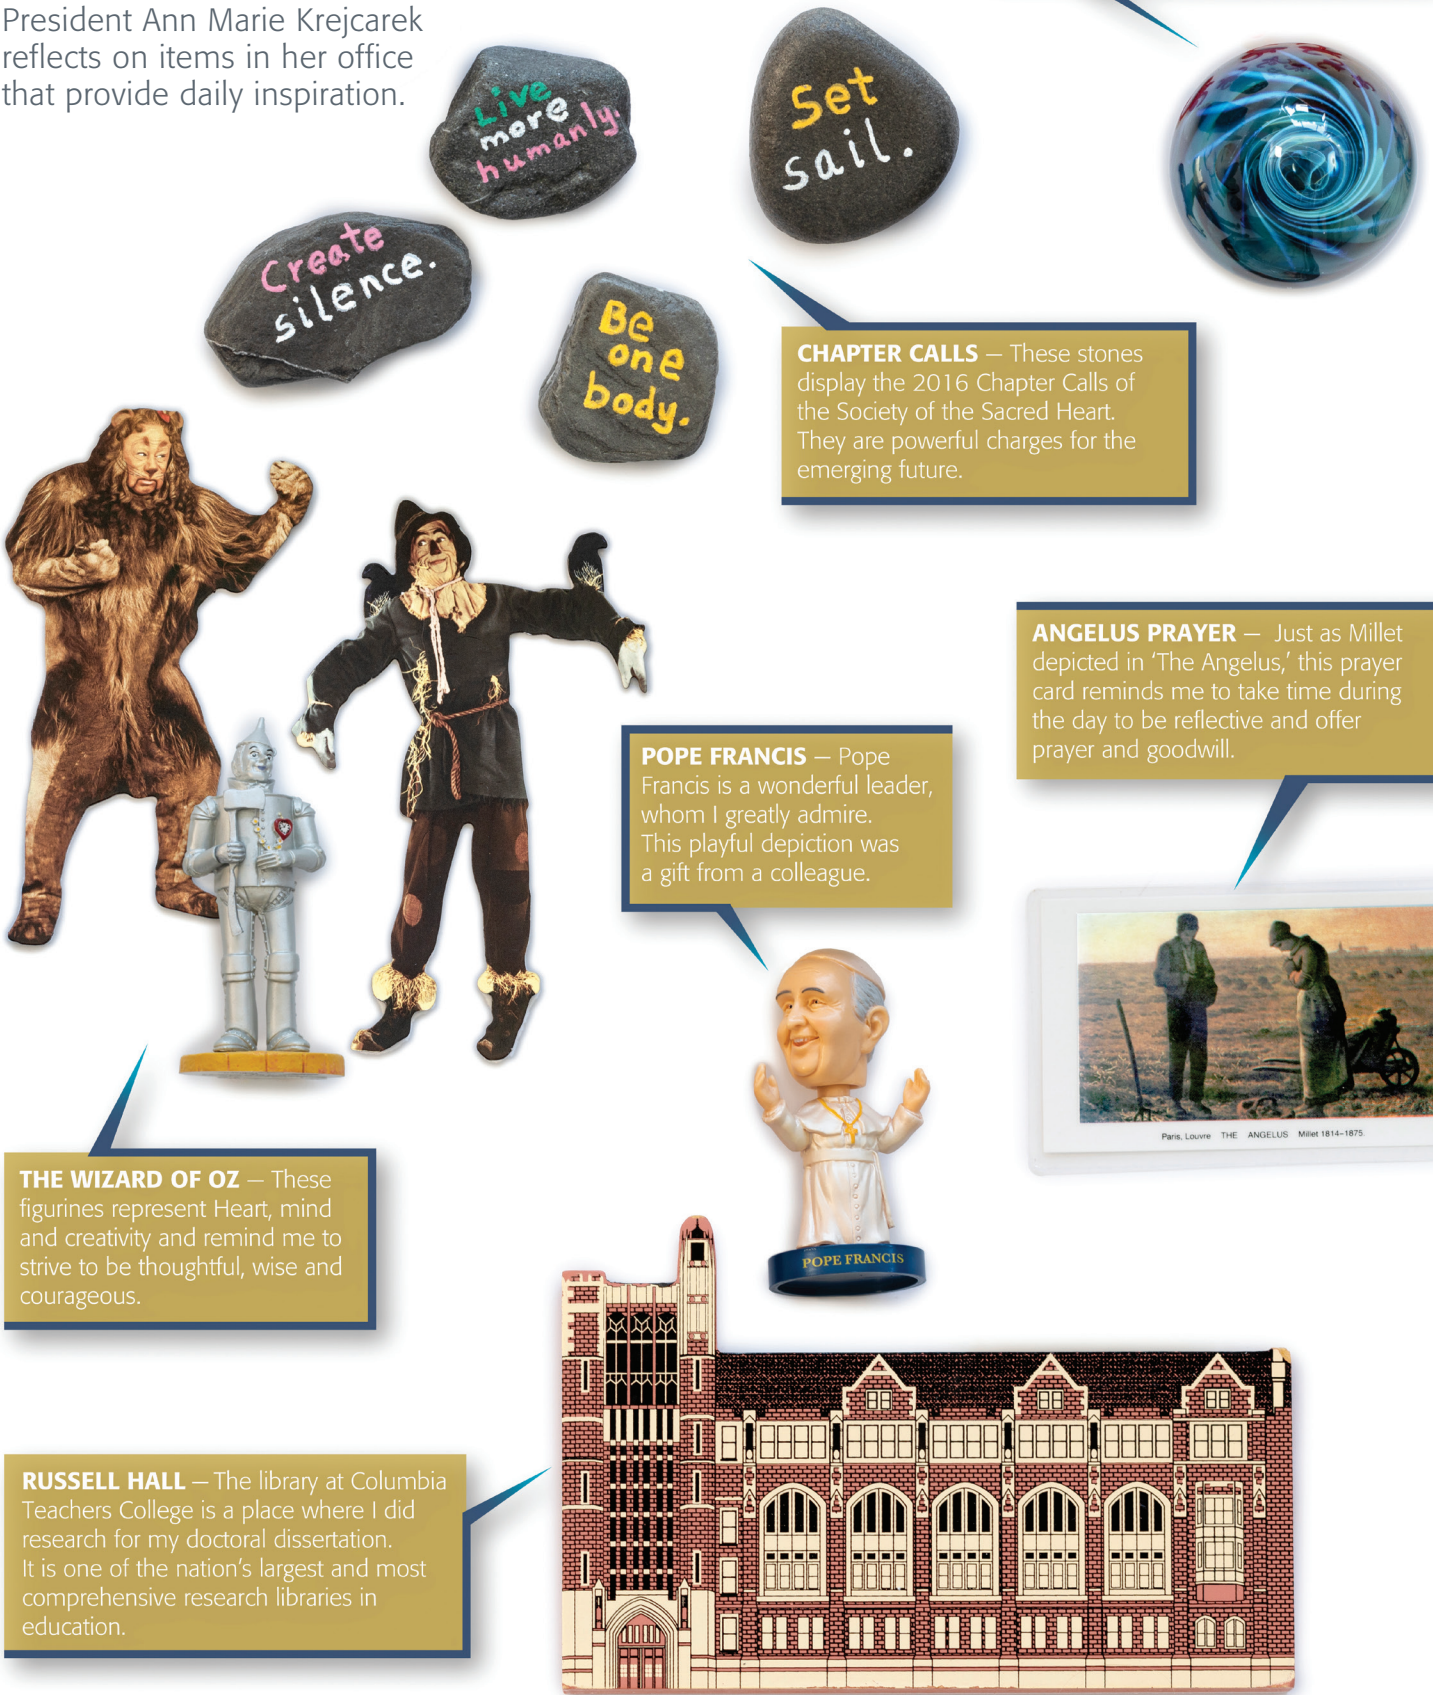

ANGELUS PRAYER — Just as Millet depicted in 'The Angelus,' this prayer card reminds me to take time during the day to be reflective and offer prayer and goodwill.

ST. MADELEINE SOPHIE BARAT PRAYER — This bookmark, received at my first head of school training with the Network, expands on Madeleine Sophie's view of leadership being equally beautiful and rewarding. Over 200 years old, it is still a great source of wisdom, showing the timelessness of the Sacred Heart vision.

POPE FRANCIS — Pope Francis is a wonderful leader, whom I greatly admire. This playful depiction was a gift from a colleague.

THE WIZARD OF OZ — These figurines represent Heart, mind and creativity and remind me to strive to be thoughtful, wise and courageous.

RUSSELL HALL — The library at Columbia Teachers College is a place where I did research for my doctoral dissertation. It is one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive research libraries in education.

GLASS ART — Once on the desk of Rosemary Cozzo, a friend and benefactor, this piece of glass art reminds me of her: a woman of science, a woman of faith, a woman of grace and style.

HOURGLASS — This is an important reminder that sometimes you have to slow down and appreciate every piece of sand that moves through your life. Be present. Live one grain of sand at a time.

BARREL OF MONKEYS — This is a simple and fun prompt to remain playful. You never know when you have to pull a trick out of your bag!

ST. ROSE PHILIPPINE DUCHESNE PAPERWEIGHT — This is one of my favorite images commemorating the bicentennial of Sacred Heart education coming to North America. It represents the amazing strength and forethought of Madeleine Sophie in sending Philippine across the Atlantic to bring her vision worldwide.

LOW MEMORIAL LIBRARY — This is a model of one of Columbia's most prominent buildings on campus. It represents to me the eternal value of education with its neoclassical architecture, incorporating columns and elements of the Pantheon.

MOTHER TERESA — Mother Teresa was the source of our 2017–18 school theme "We belong to each other." The full quote is "Today, if we have no peace, it is because we have forgotten that we belong to each other — that man, that woman, that child is my brother or my sister."

INSPIRATIONAL SAYING — Emphasizing the importance of finding wisdom over information, this sign reminds me to try and make that distinction daily.

CHAPTER CALLS — These stones display the 2016 Chapter Calls of the Society of the Sacred Heart. They are powerful charges for the emerging future.

ANGELUS PRAYER — Just as Millet depicted in 'The Angelus,' this prayer card reminds me to take time during the day to be reflective and offer prayer and goodwill.

ST. MADELEINE SOPHIE BARAT PRAYER — This bookmark, received at my first head of school training with the Network, expands on Madeleine Sophie's view of leadership being equally beautiful and rewarding. Over 200 years old, it is still a great source of wisdom, showing the timelessness of the Sacred Heart vision.

POPE FRANCIS — Pope Francis is a wonderful leader, whom I greatly admire. This playful depiction was a gift from a colleague.

THE WIZARD OF OZ — These figurines represent Heart, mind and creativity and remind me to strive to be thoughtful, wise and courageous.

RUSSELL HALL — The library at Columbia Teachers College is a place where I did research for my doctoral dissertation. It is one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive research libraries in education.

CHOOSE THE PATH THAT LEADS TO wisdom